(please provide details including the reference number of the specific provision you are submitting on)

SUB-O1 – Subdivision objectives

Confirm your position: Support Support In-part Oppose
(please tick relevant box)

My submission is:

(Include details and reasons for your position)

The Council is proposing zoning in some areas where the already existing land use pattern is contrary to achieving the objectives and policies of the zone in the land is located. For example, Rural Production zoning applying to an area where the land use pattern and lot size is no longer able to be utilised for productive purposes and where reverse sensitivity issues already exist. So rather than have parts (c) and (d) talk of 'avoiding' something that already exists and therefore automatically triggering inconsistency with the Objective no matter what subdivision is proposed, the existing situation should be acknowledged and the Objective aimed more at not materially adding to the issues raised. The word "avoid" should not be used in an objective in any event as an objective is just that – an overall objective and using a word like "avoid" seriously limits the ability to balance effects and achieve sustainable management of natural and physical resources.

The point being made here is that there is already land unable to be used in a way that achieves the zone's objectives and policies, and to put it bluntly, if this is the case, there should be no impediment to subdividing it further.

I seek the following decision from the Council:

(Give precise details. If seeking amendments, how would you like to see the provision amended?)

Amend SUB-O1, parts (c) and (d) as follows:

S101.001 "c. does not significantly increase the risk of reverse sensitivity issues that would prevent or adversely affect activities already established on land from continuing to operate;
"d. does not significantly increase the risk of the land not being able to used in a manner consistent with the zone's objectives and policies."
